Subject: PNR CDs

Hi Jay,

As you probably have heard by now, our data mining for aviation security project did not receive any FY2003 funds. My interpretation is that NASA management decided that they did not want to continue working with passenger data in order to avoid creating the appearance that we are violating people's privacy. You may have heard about the problems that JetBlue is now having after providing passenger data for a project similar to ours:

I would like to return to you the PNR CDs that you loaned us. To what address should I send them?

Thank you for your help.

Mark
